GISC's Mastering Executive Leadership program provides an opportunity for seasoned leaders who are up to the challenge of creating a thriving future for themselves and their organizations based on the results of a 360 assessment. Leaders will work to hone their leadership capability while developing supportive relationships with like-minded peers.

This intensive program, customized to meet your particular needs and goals, will give you the opportunity to assess your leadership in the context of your organization's culture and establish a clear development agenda. During the course of the program, with learning spread over several months' time, you will work on both an important personal leadership goal and an organizational challenge.

The Mastering Executive Leadership program will enable you to accelerate your progress into breakthrough insights, new behavior, and greater levels of effectiveness. With a cohort of other senior leaders, you will engage in powerful learning experiences that enable you to experiment with new concepts, tools and behaviors, growing personally and expanding your capabilities and insights.

One-on-one leadership coaching between and during sessions is an integral part of the program and will give you the opportunity to reflect on and learn from your experiences and make appropriate adjustments. You will be supported and challenged to apply learnings in your current leadership role and will receive extensive feedback from faculty, assessments and other participants.
